

SOHO HOUSE NASHVILLE

SOHO HOUSE
ART COLLECTION

Introduction by Kate Bryan,
Global Art Director of Soho House

The Nashville art collection comprises of 41 artists born, based or trained in Tennessee, with the vast majority local to the city. Ranging from established names such as Vesna Pavlovic, Willie Stewart and Vadis Turner to talent being championed early like Eden Anyabwile, the collection is a snapshot of the current contemporary art scene in Nashville.

In the hotel lobby and adjoining public space, local artist and curator David Onri Anderson was invited to guest-curate, bolstering the scope of the overall collection by exhibiting artists including Woke3 (Jamal Jenkins), Nuveen Barwari, Karen Seapker and Marlos E'vans.

Several artists were invited to create site-specific commissions for the Nashville collection including Yanira Vissepo's 'My Heavenly Bodies', a set of 6 hanging linen panels with unique dyed shapes, installed in the main club and creating an ethereal, organic partition to the space. Noah Saterstrom's three new paintings are continued explorations of his focus on memory, family and loss. Beizar Aradini's '1994', an embroidery on-tulle in the club entry, serves as one of several emissaries for the representation of the Kurdish community, with Nashville being home to the single largest group of ethnic Kurds in the USA.

The hotel bedrooms feature works by David Onri Anderson, Blythe Colvin, Veronica Leto or Paul Collins. The collection was co-curated by Global Director of Art Kate Bryan and Art Collection Manager Anakena Paddon in 2020.
